

Buyer Competition Starts to Heat Up

The REALTORS® Confidence Index (RCI) survey gathers on-the-ground information from REALTORS® based on their real estate transactions in the month. This report presents key results about the February 2022 market transactions.

With the spring market around the corner, REALTORS® reported a slight uptick in buyer traffic in February compared to the prior month, although buyer traffic was below the level one year ago. The REALTORS® Buyer Traffic Index increased to 63 (62 in the prior month; 77 one year ago). Few listings continue to come into the market compared to one year ago. The REALTORS® Seller Traffic Index registered at 34 (33 in the prior month; 34 one year ago). An index below 50 means 'weaker' conditions during the month compared to one year ago. Demand continues to outpace supply. On average, respondents reported four client home tours during the month compared to an average of one new listing during the month.

With homebuying demand still outpacing supply, properties typically stayed on the market for shorter days compared to one year ago, at 18 days (19 days in the prior month, 20 days one year ago). Eighty-four percent of listings were on the market for less than one month (79% in the prior month, 74% one year ago).

Buyer competition intensified, with respondents reporting an average of 4.8 offers for every home sold (3.9 in the prior month, 4.1 one year ago). Forty-eight percent of respondents reported that buyers' price offers were above the list price (46% in the prior month).

The share of first-time buyers slightly increased to 29% but the share was below the level one year ago (27% in the prior month; 31% one year ago). The expectation of higher mortgage rates could be encouraging buyers to lock in at the current low rates.

The share of non-primary residence buyers (for investment rental or vacation use) decreased to 19%, but the share was higher than the level one year ago (22% in the prior month, 17% one year ago). The share of cash sales also decreased from the prior month to 25%, but the share rose compared to one year ago (27% in the prior month; 22% one year ago).

With competition heating up, 23% of buyers waived an inspection contract contingency (20% in the prior month), and 23% of buyers also waived an appraisal contingency (22% in the prior month).

Majority of respondents, at 57%, reported that homebuyers were looking for features that provided working-from-home space, such as an extra room, a bigger space, or a basement. Eighty-four percent of homebuyers purchased a property in the suburban, small town, or rural area (85% in the prior month, 85% one year ago).

About the RCI Survey

- The RCI Survey gathers information from REALTORS® about local market conditions based on their client interactions and the characteristics of their most recent sales for the month.
- The February 2022 survey was sent to 50,000 REALTORS® who were selected from NAR's more than 1.5 million members through simple random sampling and to 5,070 respondents in the previous three surveys who provided their email addresses.
- There were 3,324 respondents to the online survey which ran from March 1-8, 2022, of which 1,588 had a client. Among those who had a client, the survey's maximum margin of error for proportion estimates is two percent at the 95 percent confidence level. The margins of error for subgroups are larger.
- NAR weights the responses by a factor that aligns the sample distribution of responses to the distribution of NAR membership.
